

Easter in France

By Lillie

Class 3

Easter Monday

- Every year on Easter Monday, around 10,000 people gather to make a giant omelette, made with 15,000 fresh eggs, a four-meter pan, 40 cooks, and extra long sticks.

Easter Game

- Egg Battles – France hold an egg-rolling competition, in which raw eggs are rolled down a gentle slope. The surviving egg is dubbed the “victory egg” , symbolizing the stone being rolled away from the tomb of Christ.

Chasse aux oeufs

- Children hunt for eggs on Easter Sunday, but some lucky little ones get to hunt for their treats in gardens of French castles. As well as a huge number of chocolate eggs hidden around the gardens, one lucky hunter will find a one-meter tall chocolate sculpture.